Twenty two years on the beat is enough time to know what life is all about and what is expected for an officer in dealing with the policing needs of any Australian society.

Dale has an amazing story to tell in what it is like to meet those same needs when coming, not from a person in a police uniform, but in the uniform of a Christian mission. With only four years under a new command, life has been "interesting".

The Men's Breakfasts need your support! These are critical times to strengthen the father's vital role in bringing up the children and surrounding them and their mother with love, to be a blessing to all.
